

Tips and Tricks on Photo Management

April 2024 Newsletter Rhoda Gordon, Sunflower Photo Solutions

April Showers...

It is April, the sun is warming up to country and I love this time of year. Nature becomes so vibrant, due in part to the showers and the sun. And speaking of rain, I want to take this opportunity to mention the importance of storing your photos correctly. I want to make sure they are not at risk with the added humidity and rains that comes with this changing season (see below).

Also I would love to hear what topics you would like covered in the upcoming newsletters. Send an email please let me know!
Happy Spring!

Photos Should Live Where You Live!

You would not want to live somewhere dank or musty, and similarly, neither do your photos. Are they stored somewhere like that? Get them out of the basement, garage or attic and place them in a temperature controlled location. A moist environment will cause your photos to smell, deteriorate and even grow dangerous black mold. All three of these things are difficult to remediate and should be handled by a professional. However, you can prevent this from happening by moving your photos and storing them in archival save containers.

Spotlight: Course Photo Mess to Success

Are your photos in a digital mess?

Well, these courses are for you!

It is time to take control with

Let Amanda Littlecott guide you through her tried and tested straightforward paths specific to either Mac or PC to take all your photos from apps, devices and drives to get them beautifully sorted so you can then decide where and how you want to store and enjoy

YouTube: Cathi's Pics Live

On April 17, at 2pm Eastern Time, I will be joining Cathi Nelson (founder of The Photo Managers) and a panel of other certified photo managers to discuss photo scanning and restoration. It will be FREE, fun and engaging and you are sure to learn a lot! For more information subscribe to The Photo Managers YourTube channel or follow me on social media for the details.

Mother's Day Gift

Yes, it is coming up soon! There are so many ways to honor our mothers and the sweetest way is to evoke memories and sentiments. This can be accomplished with personal photos. There are too many ways to create photo gifts to mention them all, so here are just a few. A journal with a meaningful photo on the cover, a photobook of your lives together, a custom recipe book with photos, and of course a print photo organizing solution with DIG YOUR PHOTOS! That is a gift that will keep giving for generations to come.
