The Busy Season and Mindful Photos

November is here and the busy season, with Thanksgiving, and all the different holidays, whichever one you celebrate, can be overwhelming. A lot of hustle and bustle with gatherings and opportunities to snap photos. There is nothing like a great photo to look back on in future years, but sometimes the not so great candid photos are even better. Cherish them all, delete the duds and be mindful to just enjoy the moments quietly too. I have been thinking a lot about taking photos mindfully lately and have put it into practice in my own life. Trying to be fully present in the moment is a gift for you and those you are with.

It doesn't matter what the background is, because I replace it with something amazing. DO you have an athlete or dancer? Wouldn't this be a perfect gift for the holidays? I can provide you with the digital file or have it printed and framed and ready to go. Now is the time to place the order! Let me know if you are interested. Just reply to this email and let me know.

Halloween Fun

Halloween was yesterday and I hope you indulged in a bit of fun and sweets. It is a great time to reminisce about all the costumes over the years, either ours or our kids. Can you find your old Halloween photos? Wouldn't that make a great photo book? Halloween Over the Years! You could include multiple generations of Halloweeners. It definitely would be a colorful book and one that would be shared time and again.
